

The Bethel Courier.

BETHEL, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1893.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

There will be a meeting of Teachers of Common Schools, at the Academy on the last Saturday in December commencing at 9 o'clock, A. M. The following parts have been assigned: Essay on Reading, Adelbert Tinschalt; on Rewards of Merit, John S. Chapman; on the Utility and Practice of Declaration in Schools, E. Foster, Jr.; on the arrangement of classes, Wm. R. Eames.

AFTERNOON.

An address on the necessary qualification of teachers, H. P. Brown. On the best methods of introducing incidental exercises into the schools, Miss Esther S. White. Discussion—Do our schools demand higher qualifications of teachers than are now required by law?—S. G. Holt, B. W. Bryant, On English Grammar, S. R. Hutchings; on Spelling, P. C. Wiley. All the teachers, parents, and committees, in this and adjacent towns are invited to be present and participate in the exercises. Teachers to whom assignments have been made will consider this as sufficient notice and act accordingly. One of the best signs of a good teacher is promptness.

MAINE LITERATURE.

How frequently important acts in a man's life are overshadowed by the excitement of current events. We were reminded of this, as we were looking over some specimens of Maine literature, which is scarcely known at the present day, because it was brought before the world during periods of strong political excitement.

Among them is the story of Mattie Buck, by Osgood Bradbury. The scene is laid on Umbagog Lake, and is a sketch of the last Indian resident there. The next book is entitled Carabasset, a Tragedy, by N. Deering. The scene of this is laid among the Narragansett Indians. The next is a poem entitled The Village, by Ex-Governor Lincoln. The scene is laid in Fryeburg and vicinity.

This reminds us of a poem hardly known at the present day, which was written by John Quincy Adams, soon after he ceased to be President. It is entitled Dermot McMorrough, in four Cantos. It commences with:

"I sing of Dermot, Erin's early pride,
The pious patriot of the Emerald Isle;
The first deliverance of a stolen bride,
Who sold to Aboon his native land."

We learn that the High School in Keene, N. H., under the care of Mr. Adino J. Burbank, and wife is in a most prosperous condition. The average attendance in a school of 67 was 87. The number against whom there were no marks of tardiness was 76. We doubt if any school in Maine can report as well.

We are glad to learn that the Sash & Blind Factory in this village is again to be put in operation. No one thing is more needed. We understand it has been purchased by Caleb Butterfield of Wilton. We think the prospect is as great as ever for a steady increase in the growth of the village.

We are glad to learn from the Woonsocket Patriot that Rev. E. A. Back, formerly of this village had his church enlarged by the addition of thirty pews, and that his congregation has also increased during his ministry.

We notice that some of our exchanges are asking Freeman the great question, to send them a bag of the biscuits. We think they should wait till their turn comes. We shall do so.

Olney, a lady's book says: "Let us try to improve upon our readers. Tell your own paper before subscribing to any other; it is a duty you owe, and one you ought not to neglect. If you regret the lady's book also, take that in a pinch with your own paper. You can make a fair by that operation."

WILSON'S BILLS, Nov. 21, 1893.

Mr. Wilson.—In compliance with your request, I send you the following sketch relating to my mother, lately deceased, who was born on the 28th day of February, 1798, and lived 102 years, 8 months and 3 days. She was the daughter of Samuel Marsh and Anna Libbey, of Scarborough, and was the fourth child in a family of fourteen children, all of whom had passed away before her. Her father kept one of the principal taverns on the road from Portland to Portsmouth. He was a member of the Massachusetts Assembly at the commencement of the revolution, and appointed Lieut. Col., with orders to recruit a regiment for the service. The regiment was raised in his vicinity, his house being the rendezvous for the different companies as they were raised and sent forward to the army at Cambridge. He had served previously in the French war.

In consequence of the ill health of her mother, and the absence of her father and two brothers in the army, the chief care of the house devolved upon her. Her uncommon mental and physical strength enabled her to do this, and to visit and assist two of her sisters who married two of the early settlers of the town of Limington. Her visits to Limington were made on horse-back, following a line through the woods from Standish Corner, and swimming her horse over the Saco river. Her recollection of the principal events of the revolution, the burning of Palmetto, and the difficulties and privations to which the people of those times were subjected, was very distinct until near the close of her life.

She was married at the age of 11 years, and lived in widowhood about the same time. Her residence after her marriage was in Westbrook until 1831, and the last twenty-five years of her life in the most northern settlements in the County of Oxford, where she was subjected again to many of the privations of her early life. It was not her practice to murmur or complain, but on the contrary, her fortitude and resignation were such as to encourage all within her influence to bear the ills of life with patience. She had never made a public profession of religion by uniting with any church, but her conduct was exemplary, her faith in Christ unwavering and her end peaceful.

My father, Nathaniel Wilson, was a revolutionary officer, and held a commission in the militia 27 years. He had a numerous family at the time of his second marriage. I am the only child of my mother now living, a daughter having died in infancy. Her descendants are not numerous, being ten grand-children, six of whom are now living, and seven great grand-children. All of her descendants living were present at her funeral. Her father was a native of Portsmouth, N. H., where many of that name now reside. The Libbey, I believe, were remarkable for longevity, were numerous in Scarborough and have gone out into all parts of the State.

Very respectfully, &c.,
JOHN M. WILSON.

BEHAVIOUR—EXTRAORDINARY.
The Temperance Journal states the following occurrence as having taken place in a town near Portland, where, in its immediate neighborhood, is a family that is very poor. The heads of the family are in poor health, and they have quite a number of children. They are struggling along, endeavoring to live without becoming a town charge. A benevolent lady in the village, knowing their condition, and that they greatly needed aid, sent them a box of clothing, and also some food. The mother, who was very weak, and could do no work, took the box to the nearest store, and there she found a number of children. She put them in a public place, and hid the box of clothing and food. The children, who were very poor, and had no other clothes, took the box and hid it in a place where they could not find it. The mother, who was very weak, and could do no work, took the box to the nearest store, and there she found a number of children. She put them in a public place, and hid the box of clothing and food. The children, who were very poor, and had no other clothes, took the box and hid it in a place where they could not find it.

BEHAVIOUR—EXTRAORDINARY.
The Temperance Journal states the following occurrence as having taken place in a town near Portland, where, in its immediate neighborhood, is a family that is very poor. The heads of the family are in poor health, and they have quite a number of children. They are struggling along, endeavoring to live without becoming a town charge. A benevolent lady in the village, knowing their condition, and that they greatly needed aid, sent them a box of clothing, and also some food. The mother, who was very weak, and could do no work, took the box to the nearest store, and there she found a number of children. She put them in a public place, and hid the box of clothing and food. The children, who were very poor, and had no other clothes, took the box and hid it in a place where they could not find it.

BEHAVIOUR—EXTRAORDINARY.
The Temperance Journal states the following occurrence as having taken place in a town near Portland, where, in its immediate neighborhood, is a family that is very poor. The heads of the family are in poor health, and they have quite a number of children. They are struggling along, endeavoring to live without becoming a town charge. A benevolent lady in the village, knowing their condition, and that they greatly needed aid, sent them a box of clothing, and also some food. The mother, who was very weak, and could do no work, took the box to the nearest store, and there she found a number of children. She put them in a public place, and hid the box of clothing and food. The children, who were very poor, and had no other clothes, took the box and hid it in a place where they could not find it.

BEHAVIOUR—EXTRAORDINARY.
The Temperance Journal states the following occurrence as having taken place in a town near Portland, where, in its immediate neighborhood, is a family that is very poor. The heads of the family are in poor health, and they have quite a number of children. They are struggling along, endeavoring to live without becoming a town charge. A benevolent lady in the village, knowing their condition, and that they greatly needed aid, sent them a box of clothing, and also some food. The mother, who was very weak, and could do no work, took the box to the nearest store, and there she found a number of children. She put them in a public place, and hid the box of clothing and food. The children, who were very poor, and had no other clothes, took the box and hid it in a place where they could not find it.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE. The January No. of this popular two-dollar magazine is received. It is beautifully embellished and has a large amount of useful and entertaining matter for the ladies. This magazine and the Courier can be had for $2.25 by applying at this office.

Dr. Livingston, the celebrated African traveler, who is at present exploring the river Zambesi, reports the valley of the Shire as abounding with wild elephants, having magnificent and valuable tusks. In one herd he saw over five hundred of the giant game grazing on the plain. The Shire is a good navigable river for over one hundred miles from its confluence. The mountains of Merelaba stand 4000 feet over the plain, possessed of a fine climate and profuse vegetation—lemon trees, oranges and pine-apples growing wild in the woods, promising to be had in abundance and cheap from the natives, who cultivate largely the upper third of the valley.

In New York city there are about 300,000 smokers, each using two cigars daily, making 400,000 cigars every day. These at an average of four cents each, make the enormous sum of $16,000 daily consumed in smoke in New York alone. There are some 900,000 cigars manufactured in this city annually, which at the same price amounting to $36,000,000.

The man who was too poor to take a newspaper has bought a slab-side dog, an old shot gun, and a twenty shilling gold watch. He educates his children in the street, and boards his chickens off his neighbors.

F. S. Chandler has got a good assortment of goods on hand which he is selling at very low prices. He has some very nice Buffalo Robes and a few shawls which are as good as any one can wish even in this cold climate. Please read his advertisements in this paper and then give him a call.

The Atlantic Monthly for December is at hand. This is the last number of the fourth volume. The following is the contents of this number:

"The experience of Samuel Abbot, Fullbaster; "The Minister's Wooing; "The Northern Lights and Stars; "Thomas Paine in England and France; "Elkanah Brewster's Temptation; "Magdalena; "Strange Countries for to see; "Beauty at Billiards; "Italy, 1829; "The Aurora Borealis; "The Professor at the Breakfast Table; "Reviews and Literary Notices."

Atlantic and Courier for $3.

GODEY'S LADIES' BOOK. The January No. of this magazine is received. It is the commencement of Vol. Sixty and opens the year in superb style. It contains 79 engravings, three upon steel. It is one of the best numbers ever issued. Price $3.00 per year.

By arrangements with the publisher of Godey's, subscriptions will be received at this office, at $2.00 and a year's subscription of the Courier given without extra charge.

The December number of Arthur's Home Magazine is received. Miss Tompkins' delightful story of "Wain and me" is finished in this No. Price with the Courier $2.25.

Please notice Mr. Chapman's Advertisement in another column of this paper. He has an unusual, very large stock of goods on hand, which he offers for sale cheap.

A remarkable box of pocket-bibles, an extra-trumpet, false teeth, nipple glasses, night caps, chamber pots, and extra-bibles are among the articles advertised in the Washington Post for Office sale. Read and see.

PLIMPTON'S HITCHHIKING.

It is very natural for young women to get in the habit of treating only those young men politely whom they happen, for various reasons, to fancy. They don't care what the majority of young men think of them, provided they retain the good will of their particular pets. They are whimsical, and take on special and strong likes for the young men whom they meet. One is "perfectly hateful," and so they proceed to make fools of themselves over both parties. Now there is nothing upon which a young man is so sensitive as this matter of being treated with polite consideration by the young women of his acquaintance; and I know of nothing which will tend more certain to make a young man hateful than to treat him as if he were so. There is a multitude of young men whose self-respect is nurtured, whose ambition is quickened, and whose hearts are warmed with a general fire, by those considerate recognitions on the part of their female acquaintances which assure them that they have a position in the esteem of those with whom they associate the sweetest hopes and happiness of life. To be kept for no good cause to receive a wound which is not easily healed.

The duty, therefore, which I would inculcate is that of systematic politeness. If you know a young man, how to him when you meet him. He will not bow to you first, for he waits for your recognition. He does not know whether you esteem him of sufficient value to be recognized. If you pass him without a recognition, you say to him, in a language which he feels with a keenness which you cannot measure, that you consider him beneath your notice. You plant in his heart immediately a prejudice against yourself. You disturb him. You hurt him, and this, too, let me admit, very frequently without design. You are sensitive yourself, and are afraid he has forgotten you, and would like to have you notice him. There is no man who will not return your love, and feel better for your smile; and if the young man receiving the attention is poor, and has his position in the world to win, and feels that he has not as many attractions, personal or circumstantial, as others, you have made his heart light, and awakened toward yourself a feeling of cordial good will, skin in many instances to gratitude.

The Grand Trunk Railroad route, from Portland and Quebec through the Canadas to Detroit, has been finished without attracting the special attention of the country, and it now bursts upon the public observation as one of the wonders of the day—a gigantic stride in that onward march which American enterprise is so rapidly making. The Victoria bridge at Montreal, in itself a stupendous enterprise, costing over $6,000,000, will be open for traffic on the 19th, and the western end of the road, from St. Mary's, (near London, C. W.) to Detroit, a distance of 129 miles, has been already completed—forming a continuous line of railroad for more than 1,100 miles, over which trains can pass without change of cars. Unold benefits must certainly result from the metropolitan character which this route will give to the commercial relations of the West with the Canadas, Europe, and the States on the Atlantic coast. The West will now be able to lay down its surplus corn in the eastern market at about 30 cents a bushel, the fact of but one transshipment (at Detroit) being greatly in its favor. Hitherto the West has had to convert its greatest staples into beef, pork, whisky, lard and hams, before it could realize from the crop. Now the product may be sent forward at an advantage both to the producer and consumer. The region of the West whose central axis is about latitude 37° 20' north is eminently favorable to corn growing. In New York the average is about 30 bushels per acre; New England, less than 20; Ohio 26; Illinois 40. A hundred and fifty miles north and south of this line, the production falls off. Here it is raised at an expense of from 8 to 12 cents per bushel. "It is a hopeful feeling," writes a correspondent, "that we are about to find an eastern outlet for the cereal; and it is not a visionary idea to anticipate the time when other countries will be compelled to receive it."

On Saturday evening last, two drunken ruffians entered the dwelling of Mr. Abraham Saluberry, Hartford, Conn., and after striking him, they took the poor creature back and kicked him until he was nearly dead. They then looked for the door and carrying off the key, Mrs. Saluberry, who was in the room, was left alone. She was so frightened that she did not know what to do, and she was found at the door, unable to open it, and she was found at the door, unable to open it, and she was found at the door, unable to open it.

On Saturday evening last, two drunken ruffians entered the dwelling of Mr. Abraham Saluberry, Hartford, Conn., and after striking him, they took the poor creature back and kicked him until he was nearly dead. They then looked for the door and carrying off the key, Mrs. Saluberry, who was in the room, was left alone. She was so frightened that she did not know what to do, and she was found at the door, unable to open it, and she was found at the door, unable to open it, and she was found at the door, unable to open it.

On Saturday evening last, two drunken ruffians entered the dwelling of Mr. Abraham Saluberry, Hartford, Conn., and after striking him, they took the poor creature back and kicked him until he was nearly dead. They then looked for the door and carrying off the key, Mrs. Saluberry, who was in the room, was left alone. She was so frightened that she did not know what to do, and she was found at the door, unable to open it, and she was found at the door, unable to open it, and she was found at the door, unable to open it.

On Saturday evening last, two drunken ruffians entered the dwelling of Mr. Abraham Saluberry, Hartford, Conn., and after striking him, they took the poor creature back and kicked him until he was nearly dead. They then looked for the door and carrying off the key, Mrs. Saluberry, who was in the room, was left alone. She was so frightened that she did not know what to do, and she was found at the door, unable to open it, and she was found at the door, unable to open it, and she was found at the door, unable to open it.

On Saturday evening last, two drunken ruffians entered the dwelling of Mr. Abraham Saluberry, Hartford, Conn., and after striking him, they took the poor creature back and kicked him until he was nearly dead. They then looked for the door and carrying off the key, Mrs. Saluberry, who was in the room, was left alone. She was so frightened that she did not know what to do, and she was found at the door, unable to open it, and she was found at the door, unable to open it, and she was found at the door, unable to open it.

ONCE FOR ALL.

The Journal of Health, the only one of its kind in the world, is a valuable source of information. If a child is taken with croup, apply cold water—water if possible—suddenly and freely to the neck and chest with a sponge. The breathing will instantly be relieved. Soon as possible let the sufferer drink as much as it can, then wipe it dry, cover it up warm, and soon a quiet slumber will relieve the parent's anxiety, and lead the child to the fountain of the pure gushing fountain such medical quality.

A FEARFUL PLOT TO LIBERATE OLD BRONX. A plot printer engaged in an office not a thousand miles east of Dayton, carelessly squabbled a few squares of type, which he afterwards set up in column, with no regard to order, and the matter, after he had completed his work, was an unintelligible mass of characters. At this point the conceived the notion of taking an impression of the type on a slip of paper, and enclosing it in an envelope, and send it to "John Brown."

Charles W. V. This was accordingly done. The document, of course, was opened by Brown's jailors, and was taken for some dreadful plot in cipher; it furnished alarm for the denizens of that place, and sensation telegraph gossip for the public at large.—Dayton Journal.

The Warrenton, S. C. flag contains the account of the death of a little girl of eight or nine years from burning. In the absence of all older than herself her clothes caught fire. She sent a younger sister after assistance, and when the neighbors arrived they found she had left the house and was lying dreadfully burned in the back yard. When asked what she was doing there, she replied she was afraid the house might catch fire and the baby burn too; if she said in it, and had therefore ran out into the open air. She retained all her faculties to the last, conversed freely, and bore her sufferings with a degree of fortitude truly remarkable for one of her age. Such presence of mind as is here chronicled would not discredit one of more advanced years.

PAINTERS REMEMBER. George Riggs of London, bookseller, lately deceased, in his will does not fail to remember the printers, with whom his business was so intimately connected. His property was valued at £70,000; of which he leaves £12,000 to his wife, £100 to other parties, and a considerable number of small legacies to his assistants and the contributors to the Family Herald published by him. He bequeathed the remainder of his property to various associations for the benefit of printers.

SUCKING ACCIDENT. On Saturday last, a son of Mr. L. P. Hayward, named Freddie, aged about 8 years, while at play with another boy in his father's potato, accidentally fell into a kettle containing a quantity of nearly melted Potash. The flesh on his legs and a part of his back were nearly taken off and his sufferings were most intense. He was alive at the time of writing this article (Monday forenoon) but cannot possibly survive long.—Sloppigan Clarion.

A destructive fire occurred at Taunton, Mass., on Sunday morning, which reduced to ashes one of the business portions of the town. The business district extends on the Southern side of Main street, from Weir street to Babbit's Block. The list of sufferers includes two clothing stores, two book and drug stores, two hardware and furniture stores, three hat, boot and shoe stores, two jewelry stores, two printing offices, four saloons, two carpet and dry good stores, one milliner's shop, two paint shops, two grocery, hardware, cigar, and fish markets, a market, insurance office, lawyer's office, barber's shop, dentist's office, billiard saloon, and several tenements—losing a loss of $150,000.

While a couple were being married in New York on Saturday evening last, two ruffians entered the church and, after the nuptial ceremony was over, carried the bride and bridegroom for passing company, and the bridegroom was carried off by the ruffians, and the bride was left alone.

The Arrows chronicles the earth in Portland on the 23d of Dec. Daniel R. Poirer, Treasurer of the Portland Petroleum Oil Company, after

ONCE FOR ALL.

The Journal of Health, the only one of its kind in the world, is a valuable source of information. If a child is taken with croup, apply cold water—water if possible—suddenly and freely to the neck and chest with a sponge. The breathing will instantly be relieved. Soon as possible let the sufferer drink as much as it can, then wipe it dry, cover it up warm, and soon a quiet slumber will relieve the parent's anxiety, and lead the child to the fountain of the pure gushing fountain such medical quality.

A FEARFUL PLOT TO LIBERATE OLD BRONX. A plot printer engaged in an office not a thousand miles east of Dayton, carelessly squabbled a few squares of type, which he afterwards set up in column, with no regard to order, and the matter, after he had completed his work, was an unintelligible mass of characters. At this point the conceived the notion of taking an impression of the type on a slip of paper, and enclosing it in an envelope, and send it to "John Brown."

Charles W. V. This was accordingly done. The document, of course, was opened by Brown's jailors, and was taken for some dreadful plot in cipher; it furnished alarm for the denizens of that place, and sensation telegraph gossip for the public at large.—Dayton Journal.

The Warrenton, S. C. flag contains the account of the death of a little girl of eight or nine years from burning. In the absence of all older than herself her clothes caught fire. She sent a younger sister after assistance, and when the neighbors arrived they found she had left the house and was lying dreadfully burned in the back yard. When asked what she was doing there, she replied she was afraid the house might catch fire and the baby burn too; if she said in it, and had therefore ran out into the open air. She retained all her faculties to the last, conversed freely, and bore her sufferings with a degree of fortitude truly remarkable for one of her age. Such presence of mind as is here chronicled would not discredit one of more advanced years.

PAINTERS REMEMBER. George Riggs of London, bookseller, lately deceased, in his will does not fail to remember the printers, with whom his business was so intimately connected. His property was valued at £70,000; of which he leaves £12,000 to his wife, £100 to other parties, and a considerable number of small legacies to his assistants and the contributors to the Family Herald published by him. He bequeathed the remainder of his property to various associations for the benefit of printers.

SUCKING ACCIDENT. On Saturday last, a son of Mr. L. P. Hayward, named Freddie, aged about 8 years, while at play with another boy in his father's potato, accidentally fell into a kettle containing a quantity of nearly melted Potash. The flesh on his legs and a part of his back were nearly taken off and his sufferings were most intense. He was alive at the time of writing this article (Monday forenoon) but cannot possibly survive long.—Sloppigan Clarion.

A destructive fire occurred at Taunton, Mass., on Sunday morning, which reduced to ashes one of the business portions of the town. The business district extends on the Southern side of Main street, from Weir street to Babbit's Block. The list of sufferers includes two clothing stores, two book and drug stores, two hardware and furniture stores, three hat, boot and shoe stores, two jewelry stores, two printing offices, four saloons, two carpet and dry good stores, one milliner's shop, two paint shops, two grocery, hardware, cigar, and fish markets, a market, insurance office, lawyer's office, barber's shop, dentist's office, billiard saloon, and several tenements—losing a loss of $150,000.

While a couple were being married in New York on Saturday evening last, two ruffians entered the church and, after the nuptial ceremony was over, carried the bride and bridegroom for passing company, and the bridegroom was carried off by the ruffians, and the bride was left alone.

The Arrows chronicles the earth in Portland on the 23d of Dec. Daniel R. Poirer, Treasurer of the Portland Petroleum Oil Company, after

ONCE FOR ALL.

The Journal of Health, the only one of its kind in the world, is a valuable source of information. If a child is taken with croup, apply cold water—water if possible—suddenly and freely to the neck and chest with a sponge. The breathing will instantly be relieved. Soon as possible let the sufferer drink as much as it can, then wipe it dry, cover it up warm, and soon a quiet slumber will relieve the parent's anxiety, and lead the child to the fountain of the pure gushing fountain such medical quality.

A FEARFUL PLOT TO LIBERATE OLD BRONX. A plot printer engaged in an office not a thousand miles east of Dayton, carelessly squabbled a few squares of type, which he afterwards set up in column, with no regard to order, and the matter, after he had completed his work, was an unintelligible mass of characters. At this point the conceived the notion of taking an impression of the type on a slip of paper, and enclosing it in an envelope, and send it to "John Brown."

Charles W. V. This was accordingly done. The document, of course, was opened by Brown's jailors, and was taken for some dreadful plot in cipher; it furnished alarm for the denizens of that place, and sensation telegraph gossip for the public at large.—Dayton Journal.

The Warrenton, S. C. flag contains the account of the death of a little girl of eight or nine years from burning. In the absence of all older than herself her clothes caught fire. She sent a younger sister after assistance, and when the neighbors arrived they found she had left the house and was lying dreadfully burned in the back yard. When asked what she was doing there, she replied she was afraid the house might catch fire and the baby burn too; if she said in it, and had therefore ran out into the open air. She retained all her faculties to the last, conversed freely, and bore her sufferings with a degree of fortitude truly remarkable for one of her age. Such presence of mind as is here chronicled would not discredit one of more advanced years.

PAINTERS REMEMBER. George Riggs of London, bookseller, lately deceased, in his will does not fail to remember the printers, with whom his business was so intimately connected. His property was valued at £70,000; of which he leaves £12,000 to his wife, £100 to other parties, and a considerable number of small legacies to his assistants and the contributors to the Family Herald published by him. He bequeathed the remainder of his property to various associations for the benefit of printers.

SUCKING ACCIDENT. On Saturday last, a son of Mr. L. P. Hayward, named Freddie, aged about 8 years, while at play with another boy in his father's potato, accidentally fell into a kettle containing a quantity of nearly melted Potash. The flesh on his legs and a part of his back were nearly taken off and his sufferings were most intense. He was alive at the time of writing this article (Monday forenoon) but cannot possibly survive long.—Sloppigan Clarion.

A destructive fire occurred at Taunton, Mass., on Sunday morning, which reduced to ashes one of the business portions of the town. The business district extends on the Southern side of Main street, from Weir street to Babbit's Block. The list of sufferers includes two clothing stores, two book and drug stores, two hardware and furniture stores, three hat, boot and shoe stores, two jewelry stores, two printing offices, four saloons, two carpet and dry good stores, one milliner's shop, two paint shops, two grocery, hardware, cigar, and fish markets, a market, insurance office, lawyer's office, barber's shop, dentist's office, billiard saloon, and several tenements—losing a loss of $150,000.

While a couple were being married in New York on Saturday evening last, two ruffians entered the church and, after the nuptial ceremony was over, carried the bride and bridegroom for passing company, and the bridegroom was carried off by the ruffians, and the bride was left alone.

The Arrows chronicles the earth in Portland on the 23d of Dec. Daniel R. Poirer, Treasurer of the Portland Petroleum Oil Company, after

ONCE FOR ALL.

The Journal of Health, the only one of its kind in the world, is a valuable source of information. If a child is taken with croup, apply cold water—water if possible—suddenly and freely to the neck and chest with a sponge. The breathing will instantly be relieved. Soon as possible let the sufferer drink as much as it can, then wipe it dry, cover it up warm, and soon a quiet slumber will relieve the parent's anxiety, and lead the child to the fountain of the pure gushing fountain such medical quality.

A FEARFUL PLOT TO LIBERATE OLD BRONX. A plot printer engaged in an office not a thousand miles east of Dayton, carelessly squabbled a few squares of type, which he afterwards set up in column, with no regard to order, and the matter, after he had completed his work, was an unintelligible mass of characters. At this point the conceived the notion of taking an impression of the type on a slip of paper, and enclosing it in an envelope, and send it to "John Brown."

Charles W. V. This was accordingly done. The document, of course, was opened by Brown's jailors, and was taken for some dreadful plot in cipher; it furnished alarm for the denizens of that place, and sensation telegraph gossip for the public at large.—Dayton Journal.

The Warrenton, S. C. flag contains the account of the death of a little girl of eight or nine years from burning. In the absence of all older than herself her clothes caught fire. She sent a younger sister after assistance, and when the neighbors arrived they found she had left the house and was lying dreadfully burned in the back yard. When asked what she was doing there, she replied she was afraid the house might catch fire and the baby burn too; if she said in it, and had therefore ran out into the open air. She retained all her faculties to the last, conversed freely, and bore her sufferings with a degree of fortitude truly remarkable for one of her age. Such presence of mind as is here chronicled would not discredit one of more advanced years.

PAINTERS REMEMBER. George Riggs of London, bookseller, lately deceased, in his will does not fail to remember the printers, with whom his business was so intimately connected. His property was valued at £70,000; of which he leaves £12,000 to his wife, £100 to other parties, and a considerable number of small legacies to his assistants and the contributors to the Family Herald published by him. He bequeathed the remainder of his property to various associations for the benefit of printers.

SUCKING ACCIDENT. On Saturday last, a son of Mr. L. P. Hayward, named Freddie, aged about 8 years, while at play with another boy in his father's potato, accidentally fell into a kettle containing a quantity of nearly melted Potash. The flesh on his legs and a part of his back were nearly taken off and his sufferings were most intense. He was alive at the time of writing this article (Monday forenoon) but cannot possibly survive long.—Sloppigan Clarion.

A destructive fire occurred at Taunton, Mass., on Sunday morning, which reduced to ashes one of the business portions of the town. The business district extends on the Southern side of Main street, from Weir street to Babbit's Block. The list of sufferers includes two clothing stores, two book and drug stores, two hardware and furniture stores, three hat, boot and shoe stores, two jewelry stores, two printing offices, four saloons, two carpet and dry good stores, one milliner's shop, two paint shops, two grocery, hardware, cigar, and fish markets, a market, insurance office, lawyer's office, barber's shop, dentist's office, billiard saloon, and several tenements—losing a loss of $150,000.

While a couple were being married in New York on Saturday evening last, two ruffians entered the church and, after the nuptial ceremony was over, carried the bride and bridegroom for passing company, and the bridegroom was carried off by the ruffians, and the bride was left alone.

The Arrows chronicles the earth in Portland on the 23d of Dec. Daniel R. Poirer, Treasurer of the Portland Petroleum Oil Company, after

MAILS.

Mails close on Friday at 10 A. M. To Portland at 10 A. M. To Island at 10 A. M. ARRIVAL OF TRAINS. Morning train from Portland at 10 A. M. Evening train from Portland at 4 P. M.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES. Every Sabbath at 11 o'clock A. M. and 1 P. M. in the following churches: First Congregational, Rev. Mr. G. A. G. Second Congregational, Rev. Mr. G. A. G. Universalist, Rev. Mr. G. A. G.

MEETINGS FOR PRAYER. Sunday evenings at 6 P. M. at the vestry. Bible Class, Tuesday evenings. Prayer Meeting Saturday evening.

PROSPECTUS

The Second Volume of our paper will commence December 16th.

De N. T. Fane, will continue as Editor. The Courier will be thoroughly independent in its tone, genial and cheerful in its character; its aims will be high, and the object of its conductor will be to publish the Truth without fear, favor or affection, and inculcate principles promoting the high interests of society.

The Continuation of the Courier is no longer a matter of experiment. Its constantly increasing subscription list without the service of an agent for an hour, is the best evidence of its success that we can present. It now finds its way to almost every State and Territory in the Union; wherever the sons and daughters of Bethel go, there the Courier finds its way, to gladden the hearts and homes of those far away.

We wish to make the Courier a readable paper, one that shall have useful and entertaining matter every week. We hope to make it still more useful for the year to come. The History of the Town will be continued through the next year, while we shall have greater facilities for making it a good paper.

We believe that its location has been a benefit to all classes of community. It is an advertising sheet for all, while it keeps carefully posted in all the local news of the vicinity.

The Publisher renders his thanks to his friends for their interest in his behalf, and respectfully solicits a continuance of patronage.

TERMS.—One Dollar in advance, or One Dollar and Fifty Cents at the end of the year.

Communications for the paper to be directed to the Editor. Business letters to the Publisher.

IN WINTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. In the whole history of Medical Discoveries no remedy has performed so many and so remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the Throat, Lungs and Chest, as this famous Balsam, long tried, and justly celebrated.

At this season of the year few escape the influence of some of the above complaints; all therefore should be provided with the remedy for exhalence.

The following letter just received from a gentleman well known in the region of Westfield, Mass.

Westfield, Mass. 20th Nov. 1859. W. F. Fowle & Co. Boston.—I cheerfully give you my testimony, and, moreover, am desirous that the public should know the claims which your invaluable preparation of Winter's Balsam have to its destination.

About a year since I was attacked with a severe and distressing cough, followed by inflammation of the throat, and other symptoms of a severe cold.

I tried every remedy to no avail, and so claiming did my wife and friends, until I purchased a bottle of Winter's Balsam and began to use it, and in a few days my cough and cold were cured.

Physician at Exeter Corner.

The only genuine Balsam has the written signature of "J. BUTTS" on the wrapper.

Prepared by W. F. Fowle & Co., Boston and for sale by J. C. Chandler and Co., O. H. Mason, Bethel; F. S. Chandler, Portland; J. W. Smith & Co., Boston; J. C. Chandler, Portland; J. W. Smith & Co., Boston.

It is extensively cultivated, and will be a few an important article of commerce.

It is extensively cultivated, and will be a few an important article of commerce.

It is extensively cultivated, and will be a few an important article of commerce.

WINTER GOODS!

TO THE PUBLIC.

SPLendid ASSORTMENT OF DRY GOODS.

Groceries, Pork, Lard, Fish, Missouri Tobacco, right from the Manufacturer. Also—350 bbls. New Paris and Peoples Mills FLOUR.

arriving, which will be sold, the lowest in the market according to quality.

Wanted in exchange for Goods or CASH:

10,000 bushels Oats, 1/2

5,000 " Corn,

1,000 " White Beans,

10 tons Butter,

25 tons Pork,

and all kinds of Produce.

C. & O. H. MASON.

Near the G. T. R. Depot.

Bethel, Dec. 8, '59.

WANTED!

BY the subscriber,

Poultry,

Patridges,

Butter,

Eggs,

Trout,

Bees Wax,

PELTZ,

Furs of all kinds!

for which

50 CASH!

will be paid.

Poultry to be picked without scaling.

F. S. Chandler.

TURKS ISLAND SALT!

selling for 38 Cts. Cash.

KEROSENE LAMPS!

and Fixtures—a full assortment—at very low prices.

F. S. Chandler.

Bethel, Dec. 9, 1859. 3w51

B. A. CHAPMAN.

WOULD respectfully announce to the inhabitants of Bethel and its vicinity that he has on hand a large and well selected stock of Fancy, English, Domestic and W. I. Goods, well adapted to the present season.

ALSO:

800 bbls.

West Canada and Michigan FLOUR, of different brands, all of which will be sold

Cheap for Cash,

or RAY DOWN.

R. A. C. wants in exchange for Goods and Cash.

5000 bushels Oats,

300 bushels White Beans,

10 tons of Pork,

2 tons Butter,

3 tons Dried apple,

Rye

Oliver Seed,

Hards Grain Seed,

and all kinds of Produce.

Poultry

and all kinds of Produce.

Bethel, Dec. 8, 1859. 3147

G. T. Railroad.

Portland and Bethel.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

Commencing Nov. 28, 1859.

Trains will run as follows:

From Portland to Bethel, at 10 A. M.

From Bethel to Portland, at 1 P. M.

From Portland to Bethel, at 4 P. M.

From Bethel to Portland, at 7 P. M.

From Portland to Bethel, at 10 P. M.

From Bethel to Portland, at 1 P. M.

From Portland to Bethel, at 4 P. M.

From Bethel to Portland, at 7 P. M.

From Portland to Bethel, at 10 P. M.

From Bethel to Portland, at 1 P. M.

From Portland to Bethel, at 4 P. M.

From Bethel to Portland, at 7 P. M.

From Portland to Bethel, at 10 P. M.

From Bethel to Portland, at 1 P. M.

From Portland to Bethel, at 4 P. M.

From Bethel to Portland, at 7 P. M.

From Portland to Bethel, at 10 P. M.

From Bethel to Portland, at 1 P. M.

From Portland to Bethel, at 4 P. M.

From Bethel to Portland, at 7 P. M.

BOURBON BLEND.

THE proprietor of the public with a positive knowledge that it will perform all that is claimed for it. He did not originate it for the sake of making something to sell, but to cure himself of Drunkenness, and after years of suffering, he succeeded in completely doing so, and now, after having established its remarkable curative power, beyond a doubt, by its use in a great variety of other cases, with equal success, he offers it to the public for the relief of the suffering.

Try it in your own case, and depending there, its health and happiness is sure for you yet.

IT CURES DYSPEPSIA.

IT CURES CONSUMPTION.

IT CURES SORE THROAT.

IT CURES A SLUGGISH LIVER.

It strengthens and regenerates the debilitated system. And there is a medicine known that causes the food to do so much good, that adds so much healthy nutrition to the blood and vital forces of the system as the Bourbon Blend.

For sale by JAMES NUTTING, Bethel.

Prepared and sold by W. A. Sleeper, Nashua, N. H.

House for Sale.

The Subscriber offers for Sale a recently occupied by himself, situated near the Universalist Church.

Cheap for Cash.

Applied for soon.

P. A. TWITCHELL.

Bethel, Nov. 25, 1859.

P. S. A lot on the opposite side of the street will be sold with the above if wanted.

APOTHECARY.

DR. GROVER

HAS purchased a new supply of MEDICINES to add to his extensive variety, which will be sold in small quantities, as cheap as can be bought elsewhere.

BERKSHIRE.

Life Insurance Company, PITTSFIELD, MASS.

George N. Briggs, President.

Thos. F. Plimpton, Vice President.

Seal Chikering, Secretary & Treasurer.

CAPITAL & SURPLUS, $210,000.

R. HOLT, Agent.

Bethel Depot, Me.

One-half of the profits, and all information given, gratis, on application above.

Advantages offered by the Berkshire Life Insurance Co.

1st. A cash paid up Capital of $10,000.

2d. Dividends and every Office are required to have a personal and pecuniary interest in the success of the Company.

3d. The rates of Premium are those which careful analysis and experience have demonstrated to be handsomely paid.

4th. The Government of the Company are required by the Charter to be in such securities as are permitted to Savings Banks.

5th. When the Annual Premium amounts to $20, twenty-five percent of it can be taken as a loan, without interest.

6th. The whole earnings of the Company, beyond the dividend on the Capital belongs to the assured.

7th. Surplus distributed every five years.

The last dividend, September 1st, 1859, was twenty percent of each year's premium.

8th. Claims promptly and promptly settled.

Are you insured? Remember that from five to ten cents a day saved will secure your family $1000 at your decease.

PARIS MILLS FLOUR!

THE SUBSCRIBERS HAVE recently purchased, and are now receiving a large quantity of

NEW WHEAT,

of a very superior quality.

They have made extensive additions to their buildings, and are now prepared to furnish part of the new barrels, and branded with their own names, of the different grades of Double Extra, Extra, fancy, etc., which they are prepared to furnish and retail. They guarantee that no party can furnish a better article of flour at the same price, and every barrel is warranted as represented.

Particular attention is given to the whole department of the Flour Business, and orders are respectfully solicited and will be promptly answered.

They also keep on hand a supply of Corn, Rye, Barley, etc.

SHORTS by the ton and at retail.

AN article will be sold at a low price.

WOODMAN, PHELPS & CO.

Bethel, Dec. 8, 1859. 3147

OYSTERS.

FRESH OYSTERS by the quart

for sale by J. TWITCHELL.

OYSTERS served up at short notice by J. TWITCHELL.

Bethel, Dec. 8, 1859. 3147

COULD'S RECIPE.

FOR THE CURE OF THE

COULD'S RECIPE.

FOR THE CURE OF THE

COULD'S RECIPE.

FOR THE CURE OF THE

COULD'S RECIPE.

FOR THE CURE OF THE

COULD'S RECIPE.

FOR THE CURE OF THE

COULD'S RECIPE.

FOR THE CURE OF THE

COULD'S RECIPE.

FOR THE CURE OF THE

COULD'S RECIPE.

FOR THE CURE OF THE

COULD'S RECIPE.

FOR THE CURE OF THE

COULD'S RECIPE.

FOR THE CURE OF THE

COULD'S RECIPE.

FOR THE CURE OF THE

COULD'S RECIPE.

FOR THE CURE OF THE

COULD'S RECIPE.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the subscriber for subscription to the Bethel Courier, for the last year, are requested to make immediate payment. JAS. NUTTING.

Bethel, Nov. 25, 1859.

Corn, Beans, Wheat Rye, and all other kinds of Country Produce wanted in payment for the Courier.

F. S. CHANDLER.

NOW OFFERS

GREAT INDUCEMENTS

To those who are in want of GOODS!

Usually kept at Country Stores.

DRESS GOODS!

DELAINES.

PLAIDS.

PRINTS.

LADIES CLOTH.

in Brown, Black and Drabs.

Schenille Scarfs.

SHAWLS.

HOODS.

ARMLETS, GAUDETTE

GLOVES.

Watch Spring Hoop Skirts.

Watch Spring and Ratan Skirt Hoops.

Ladies are particularly invited to call before purchasing elsewhere.

CHOICE GROCERIES.

HATS, CAPS, BOOTS, SHOES,

RUBBERS, &c.

Crockery, Glass and Hard Ware,

Confectionery of all kinds.

Figs, Nuts, Raisins, Bees Honey,

Lemons, &c.

STATIONERY.

READY-MADE CLOTHING.

FOWLING PIECES, Double and Single.

Powder and Shot.

Kerosine Oil at $1.00 per gallon.

Paints, Oil, TAR, Rosin, Putty,

Chalk, &c.

APPLES, Wholesale or Retail.

All of which will be sold

Cheaper than the Lowest, or Cash or Country Produce.

D. S. A few more Horses, Carriages, Sleighs, Boffan

Robes, Bedsteads, Mattresses, &c., for sale at low prices.

F. S. Chandler.

The Great Embroiderer to all Handker-

TAKE THEM AND LIVE!

USED THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

HERRICK'S

SUGAR COATED PILLS

And Kid Strengthening Plasters!!

ONE box of Herrick's

Sugar Coated Life Pills

costing only 25 cents, will last a family 6 months,

save twenty-five dollars in physician's bills, 15 or more dollars in lost time and not unfrequently the life of some member of the value of which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

Herrick's Kid Strengthening Plasters cure in five hours, pains and weakness in the breast, side and back, Rheumatic Complaints in an equally short space of time. Spread on a beautiful handkerchief, and their use subjects never to be forgotten, and each one will wear from one week to three months.

Pills, family box, 25 cents.

Plasters on kid, 10 1/2 cents.

Dr. CASPER'S

Magnolia Catarrh Smear,

Cures Catarrh, Discharge, Sore Weak and In-

Courier Book, Job & Card

BETHEL HILL, at L